Client-First Philosophy

“The transition from HMB into Kilpatrick will be seamless because of similar client-first philosophies, complementary client bases, and a material commitment to excellence.”

Keith Berk, HMB Partner

TECHNOLOGY DRIVEN

“HMB is very excited to find another firm that practices in the same manner—excellence in client service, innovation and collaboration. In addition to sharing a philosophy of caring for clients and finding solutions, both firms are committed to increasing the services available for our clients, as well as expanding the geographic reach to provide these services. Together, HMB and Kilpatrick prove an ideal strategic partner for clients, and combined, the depth of resources each can provide creates a top-tier experience for our clients.”

Sean Auton, HMB Partner

HMB has achieved widespread recognition from prestigious directories over the years including Best Lawyers, Best Law Firms, Chambers, M&A Advisor, and more.

“This combination of firms is truly an intersection of mutual strengths—particularly in the technology, venture capital and corporate space. The technology-driven expertise that both firms bring will create opportunities for some of the nation’s leading and emerging companies and the venture capital and growth funds that invest in them.”

Brian Axelrad, HMB Partner
